1. Description

The college managing committee and Principal always promotes the practice of participative management in the institution. The Principal frames the different committees every year so that they can get the opportunities to participate in decision making process. The principal in consultation with the Advisory Committee prepares the outline of the perspective plan for the subsequent year. This includes inputs received throughout the year from students, parents, staff members and Heads of the departments and a host of other issues requiring attention. This is then routed through IQAC of the college which after deliberating on the inputs from the principal and after incorporating its own suggestions prepares the detailed plan of action for the subsequent years. The principal along with the senior faculty takes timely decision regarding the implementation of the plan of action assisted by different committees, where possible press persons are invited to cover the events organized in the campus, the reports of which are printed in the newspapers thus enabling the college to search out to a wide community. The reports of all the activities are printed in the college magazine. A copy of the magazine is sent to the Management, Alumni and the well-wishers of the college who provide their valuable feedback which again becomes one of the sources for preparing the plan of action for the subsequent year. The meetings of the departments are held often and then recommendations are sent to the principal so as to build further action plan. Administrative decisions are taken by Principal along with IQAC and HODs. The college follows all such norms laid down by Panjab University Chandigarh and DPI Colleges, Punjab Government.

- The College regularly conductsSeminars at National and International Level. The departments decide the subjects and topics of the seminar in their departmental meetings. This is communicated to the college principal and authorities. The same is sent to the university for financial assistance. ICSSR, NAAC, DCDC, Panjab University Chandigarh and other agencies have granted the financial assistance to the seminars conducted at the college. This is also an example of participative management.
- Financial budget is prepared at the beginning of the year by the office administrative head (Superintendent) and is with consultation of the Head of the institute (Principal). Accordingly it is verified by the college Principal and is sent for sanction to the managing committee. The Guru Nanak society approves budget and necessary action is carried out.
- The examinations are carried out periodically throughout the year by Academic Committee. The convenor of the committee is in-charge of examination for the smooth conduct of examinations.. The administrative work is done by the office employees so that examination process can take place efficiently.

- The participation of students in Sports, NSS, NCC, extra-curricular activities is encouraged in order to attain overall development of students. The Principal and the staff take due efforts to motivate the students in the participations. The PG students also prepare projects. The faculty members of these departments assist and guide the students in undertaking the research work. The faculty through its various committees try to motivate the students to take part in students' welfare programs. The cultural committee promotes the students to actively participate in dramas, quizzes, debates & oratory etc. outside the college in various competitions.
- The college plans for all such implementations through its academic calendar and feedback from various stakeholders.

Thus the role of management is very positive and forward looking. With the aim of providing best possible education within the given limitations the college works for attaining the academic excellence.
